Robinson returning from injury. The Blues will leave their cute footy behind and go back to playing the no frills running game that has won them nine games this year. Carlton by 30 points in a hotly fought game of football.

All the other games today look pretty mundane and one would expect Freo Dockers at home will easily account for the Gold Coast Suns who make their way to Perth. The Cats over the Don's tonight at Docklands and at AAMI Park in Adelaide the Crows will go down to the Sydney Swans who showed lots of form in loosing a close one to the Magpies last week.

In the Sunday afternoon MCG blockbuster Collingwood will entertain the Hawks. This game will be closely contested and provide lots of hard tackling action. Hawthorn will be struggling against the Pies' speed, given that Rioli and Roughhead are out of the side. It's Collingwood to continue their winning run for another week.

In other games tomorrow, the Brisbane Lions at the Gabba will beat Port Power and North Melbourne play St Kilda at the Dome.

North Melbourne have played great footy over the last three weeks and should give St Kilda a run for their money. The Saints being so far out of the eight are in a must-win situation and this game will test their will power. St Kilda by a narrow margin.

Fresh from their victory over Carlton, the West Coast Eagles have the bye before facing Geelong next week.

the carpet' until it's too late. Former Richmond player Justin Charles, the first AFL footballer to be banned for taking drugs, says he told the league bosses at the time of his infringement where he got the drugs, but they did not want to know.

Charles, who was ultimately suspended for 16 weeks in 1997 for taking the banned drug Baldenone over a period of four weeks while injured, claims he gave senior AFL officials information about how he procured the drug, but they chose not to act or eradicate the source.

Carlton will pay for the toll and their performance of recent has dropped. Carlton, coming of a lacklustre loss against the Eagles last week, will be bolstered by the inclusion of stars, Jarrad Waite and Mitch 'the Terminator'
